The Stories of Pro Bono in TN

“Representing a
distressed child in
juvenile court, enabling
a young mother to
divorce her abusive
husband, representing a family about to be
evicted from their
home - this kind of work is done daily by Tennessee attorneys
who volunteer their expertise to give a
voice to those who
otherwise would be on their own. Pro bono work may not be
glamorous, but it is
rewarding. Each hour
given in service is
another child rescued,
another domestic
violence victim
protected, another
family saved from
foreclosure. Try it!”
–TN Supreme Court
Justice Holly Kirby

“Our clinic meets at St.
James Missionary
Baptist Church every other month. For the better part of two
years, a woman
attended the clinic
every month. She had been involved in a 3
car accident where the
car sustained minor
damage, and she
could not get the
insurance company to
reimburse her for the repairs. For three years she talked to a variety of our attorneys
who helped her
navigate the process.
A few months ago she
came to the clinic
again, to thank our
lawyers for helping her
feel confident enough
to deal with the issue
herself.”
– Randy Spivey

“I learn something new
with every pro bono
experience. Most of my
pro bono work is vastly different from my
typical commercial
litigation practice. My pro bono work allows
me the opportunity to work in areas such as
expungements,
divorces, and probate.
I am able to add
something new to my
practice toolkit with
every case and/or
clinic.” –Amber Floyd
